University Theatre Announces Season

University Theatre has scheduled four mainstage productions for the 2002-2003 season.

The Rodgers and Hammerstein hit musical "South Pacific" opens the season on Friday, Oct. 11, at 8 p.m. in the Performing Arts Center's Drama Theatre. Additional evening performances are set for Oct. 12, 17, 18 and 19. Two Saturday matinees have been set for Oct. 12 and 19 at 2 p.m.

Based on two short stories from James Michener's wartime collection "Tales of the South Pacific," this classic musical focuses on two love stories. The first involves the unlikely attraction between Nellie Forbuch, a naïve Navy nurse from Little Rock, Ark., and Emile de Becque, a worldly French planter. The second tells the tale of the tender, tragic romance between Lt. Joe Cable and a young island girl.

The lush score, including such hits as "Some Enchanted Evening," "Younger than Springtime" and "There is Nothing Like a Dame," combined with the serious themes of racial prejudice, hate and the effects of war on a formerly pristine paradise, made

"South Pacific" the second musical to win the Pulitzer Prize in Drama for 1949.

The next production, "The Laramie Project," is a contemporary work that explores the aftermath of the vicious murder of 21-year-old Matthew Shepard, a gay student attending the University of Wyoming. Performances are scheduled in the F. Perry Smith Studio Theatre at 8 p.m. on Nov. 15, 16, 21, 22 and 23 and Nov. 15 at 2 p.m.

Developed by award-winning director Moisés Kaufman and members of the Techtonic Theatre Project, this production is a moving and inspiring theatrical experience told through the eyes of the townspeople of Laramie, Wyo., who served as both witnesses to and participants in the aftermath of

Undergraduate Education Initiative Launched

As established by Provost Simpson in May of this year, the Undergraduate Education Initiative will soon announce a wide variety of forums designed to engage the University community "in a thorough and reflective dialogue about our approach to undergraduate education" (memo to faculty from Dr. Simpson, May 16, 2002).

Several venues will be utilized to solicit the opinions of faculty, librarians, administrators and staff. Opportunities for comment will be made available at Faculty Assemblies and through allcampus general meetings. Representatives of the Undergraduate Education Initiative Steering Committee — a collaboration of faculty, librarians and student affairs professionals — will be available to attend academic department meetings. Randomly selected faculty focus groups will be established to receive opinions and concerns. Ultimately, it is the goal of the Steering Committee to provide every faculty member the opportunity to engage in this important discussion. A Web site will also be available through the University's Intranet to allow campus access to committee minutes, pertinent articles and research, and meeting schedules.

In addition to public and departmental meetings, four sub-committees are being developed to provide recommendations to the Steering Committee

- Approaches to Learning: Experiential Education.
- Approaches to Learning: The Classroom Experience.
 - Technology and Information Literacy.
- Multiculturalism, Gender and Internationalization.

General Education proposals will be developed by the steering committee for campus consideration after receiving input from the campus community and the four sub-committees.

Special mailings and announcements will keep the campus informed of all meetings and opportunities for input. A progress report will be submitted April 30, 2003; a final set of recommendations will be provided on or before June 1, 2003. These recommendations will then be presented to the campus for review and opinion during the 2003-2004 academic year.

If you have any questions about the process, please contact Jim Limbaugh, chair of the Undergraduate Education Initiative Committee and Assistant to the Provost, x4489 (jlimbaugh@frostburg.edu).

Shepard's murder on Oct. 12, 1998. This collective-collaborative creation, compiled from more than 200 interviews and presented through more than 60 real life "characters," is presented as a docudrama, a format both theatrical and real. Time Magazine called it "one of the top ten plays of 2000."

An American comedy classic, Clare Booth Luce's "The Women" is scheduled for 8 p.m. performances in the PAC Drama Theatre on March 7, 8,13,14 15 at 8 p.m. and March 8 at 2 p.m.

When it premiered on Broadway in 1936, "The Women" caused a sensation as it proceeded to shatter many cozy myths about matrimony. The play satirizes a group of New York socialites, their twisted marriages and the delicious gossip that is their undoing. Thanks to its laugh-out-loud humor, for nearly 65 years, "The Women" has enjoyed success, including a sell-out 2001-2002 New York production.

The season closes with "Flyin' West," a fact-inspired drama by Pearl Cleage that focuses on a family of women who leave the racism and sexism of the South to go west in search of freedom.

Performances are set for 8 p.m. on April 25 and 26 and May 1, 2 and 3 in the F.

Perry Smith Studio Theatre. A matinee is scheduled for April 26 at 2 p.m.

The time is 1898 and the place is Nocodemeus, Kansas, an all-black town named for an African-born slave who bought his independence. Cleage wrote the play after reading about the crusading journalist, Ida B. Wells, whose Memphis newspaper columns of the 1890s urged African-Americans to leave home and find freedom in the West.

For information and reservations for all University Theatre productions, call x7462 between 1 and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. Season Discount Cards, available to the general public for $30, allow cardholders to attend "South Pacific" for free. Tickets for individual performances are $10 for the general public. Student tickets are $4.

lyrics. "Love, Me," "In This Life," "Little Rock," "I Think About You" and "Couldn't Last a Moment" are some of the highlights of his career, which includes ten No. 1 singles and four platinum albums. Brock likes to get his audience fired up with hits like "Yes," "Ordinary Life" and "Lightning Does the Work." His new album, "III," takes him light years beyond his first two powerful releases, featuring music he feels more truly captures the essence of who he is as an artist.

This year's Homecoming concert coincides with USA Weekend's 2002 Make A Difference Day, a national community service project. Raye serves as a member of the advisory board.

"The Nutcracker," starring the International Ballet Theatre of Russia, returns to Frostburg just in time for the holidays, with shows at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 26 and 27, in the PAC's Drama Theatre. Presented in the grand Russian tradition, this beloved ballet has enchanted children of all ages for more than a century with its fantastic story, elaborate costumes, magical sets and dynamic music.

Winter will seem far away when Barry
Manilow's "Copacabana – the Musical" comes to town for three shows running Friday and Saturday, Jan. 17 and 18, in the PAC Drama
Theatre. Set in the glamorous '40s world of the famous Copacabana nightclub, when "music and passion were always in fashion," this musical extravaganza follows the adventures of the same Lola made famous in Manilow's hit song.

The world-renowned Vienna Choir Boys will uplift spirits on Friday, Feb. 21, at 8 p.m. in the PAC Pealer Recital Hall. Through worldwide tours and intensive study at home, the Choir has carried on the rich traditions of Vienna's musical life as a living heritage for more than 500 years. The choir's repertoire includes everything from Gregorian chant to contemporary and experimental music.

Brubeck Brothers Quartet

Jazz fans will enjoy a touch of California cool when the Brubeck Brothers Quartet comes to Frostburg for a performance on Friday, March 14, at 8 p.m. in the Lane University Center Alice R. Manicur Assembly Hall. Dave and Chris Brubeck, sons of jazz legend Dave Brubeck, join Mike DeMicco on guitar and Pete Levin on piano and organ for an evening of original compositions, jazz standards and Dave Brubeck classics. With the ability to seamlessly combine straightahead jazz, funk and the Brubeck style of playing in odd time signatures, the Quartet offers a glimpse into the future of jazz while honoring the jazz tradition.

The world premiere of "Stirrings: a multi-disciplinary work connecting the arts, the environment and human life" will be presented Friday through Sunday, April 4 through 6, in the PAC Drama Theatre. This unique work is based upon the acclaimed book of essays, "Stirring the Mud: On Swamps, Bogs and Human Imagination," by local writer and FSU professor Barbara Hurd, in collaboration with choreographer Mark Taylor of Dance Alloy, composer Alice Shields and set designers Richard Kagey and Conrad Maust of FSU's Department of Theatre.

The Dinner Show Package adds transportation and dinner at one of the area's Dinner Show restaurants, Acropolis, El Canelo, Gandalf's, Gehauf's, Giuseppe's, Harrigan's and Tombstone Café.

For more information and individual ticket and series subscription purchases, call or visit the CES Box Office, Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. The Office is in Lane University Center, Room 235, and can be reached at x3137 or toll-free at 1-(866) TIXX CES. All tickets not purchased in person will be charged a $1 per ticket handling fee.

New this year is online ticketing, powered by CyberSeats[®]. By visiting ces.frostburg.edu, patrons may choose a seat location, view the stage from that section and purchase tickets online.

"Copacabana"

Based on availability, tickets may also be purchased at the venue box office one hour prior to curtain. All patrons must have a ticket, and all sales are final. Those arriving late for performances will not be admitted until intermission. Visit the Web site at ces.frostburg.edu for more information.

Workshop: Learning, Emotion and Teaching

On Wednesday, Sept. 18, Dr. Luz Mangurian, from Towson University will conduct a workshop/presentation on "Learning, Emotion and Potential Applications to Teaching Practice."

Mangurian, a native of Ecuador, is a noted scholar on the subject of neuroanatomy and its relationship to learning. A recipient of Towson's Outstanding Faculty Award for excellence in Teaching, Research and Service to the College of Science and Mathematics, Mangurain has published extensively in and serves on the editorial board of The Journal on Excellence in College Teaching.

The presentation will be in 104 Guild from 3:30 to 5 p.m. Faculty, staff and students are welcome.

For information, call x4696 or e-mail pcoward@frostburq.edu.

Lecture Set on Hawaii's Mystery and Volcanoes

Dr. Don B. Weser, professor of chemistry at FSU, will present a lecture on "Hawaii, Land of Mystery, Enchantment and Volcanoes," Thursday, Sept. 26, at 7:30 p.m. in the PE Center Leake Room.

Hawaii is a land of great mystery, intrigue and astounding diversity of cultures and peoples. Its history is rooted in legends and stories that have been passed from one generation to another, and much of that interest and superstition still resides there. Weser's presentation will focus on Hawaii's fascination both underwater and far above sea level, from its sea life to its volcanoes, which leads to a realm vastly different from that encountered in the continental United States.

Weser was given the opportunity to explore many facets of the islands through the Chautauqua program, sponsored by the National Science Foundation.

Volcanic samples and artifacts will be on display following the lecture. Refreshments will be served prior to the talk. For more information, contact Weser at x4157.

Literacy Expert to Present Workshop

Literacy expert Dr. Barbara McDonald will present a workshop on "Signing on for Change: Engagement in the Learning Process for Adults," Friday, Oct. 4, from 1 to 3 p.m. in the PE Center Leake Room.

The workshop will share research on adult literacy and personality and social outcomes, as well as the effect the adult learner's literacy has on their children. It is designed for those interested in adult literacy, teachers, tutors, researchers and psychologists. Continuing education credits are available for psychologists.

McDonald is co-director of Project FULFILL, a three-year study of California State Library adult learners and their tutors. She has conducted research studies in the areas of adult learning, motivation and learning strategies for more than 20 years.

For more information, contact Dr. Ann Bristow in the FSU Department of Psychology, at x4446.

Appalachian Laboratory

"Environmental Impacts on Amphibians in the Central Appalachians" will be presented by Thomas K. Pauley, of the Department of Biological Sciences at Marshall University, as part of the Appalachian Laboratory Fall Seminar Series on Thursday, Sept. 19, at 3:30 p.m. in AL Room 109. Refreshments will be served after the seminar in the lobby.

Ivonne Hernandez to Appear 'Live at the Loft'

Ivonne Hernandez, fiddler and versatile musician, will appear Live at the Loft on Friday, Sept. 27, at 8 p.m. in the Lane University Center. Her performance is free and open to the public.

A consummate entertainer, Hernandez is in constant motion, whether dancing, fiddling or singing with an energy she conveys to her audience. Her style reflects her father's Chilean roots and her mother's East Coast background, combined with her own contemporary sound.

Alisa Garneer of "City Life" calls Hernandez "...one big wave in the pool of up-and-coming musical acts."

For information, call the Lane University Center's Information Desk at x4411.

Neal Corwell to Present Euphonium Recital

Dr. Neal Corwell will be presenting a recital on Thursday, Oct. 3, in Pealer Recital Hall at 8 p.m. The recital is free and open to the public.

Corwell, having previously served with The U.S. Army Band in Washington, D.C., "Pershing's Own," from 1981 to 1989, recently rejoined that organization and is now again playing euphonium as a member of the armed services. During his intervening years in the civilian world, Neal earned his doctorate in music from the University of Maryland and made his living as a freelance musician, appearing in Europe, Asia, and all across the United States as guest euphonium solo artist and composer at numerous events every year. He also was an adjunct faculty member at both FSU and Shepherd College for several years, teaching low brass and electronic music.

Over 40 of Corwell's original works and arrangements are published, and several have been included on recent recordings. His solo CDs include "Distant Images" (1994), "Heart of a Wolf" (2000), and the soon to be released "Out Sitting in his Field" (2002).

Music Department Faculty Gala Oct. 18

Reserve Friday, Oct. 18, for the Music Department Faculty Gala: "Classic, Contemporary and all that Jazz."

Department of Music faculty present a diverse offering of musical selections on a concert which is a scholarship fund-raiser ($10/$5 for students) preceded by a dessert reception. You may RSVP to Joan Holliday for tickets at x4145. For information, contact Ellen Grolman Schlegel in the music department at x4117.

Literature

Driscoll, Award-Winning Writer, to Read at FSU

The Western Maryland Writers' Workshop and Department of English will present a reading by fiction writer Jack Driscoll on Thursday, Sept. 19, at 7:30 p.m. in the P.E. Center Leake Room. Center. This event is free and open to the public, and will be followed by a reception and book-signing.

The author of three novels, a collection of short stories and four books of poems, Driscoll writes about characters who persevere through harsh Michigan winters, rocky marriages and long years of anger or resignation. His work has won him an NEA Creative Writing Fellowship, the PEN/Nelson Algren Fiction Award and the Associated Writing Programs Short Fiction Award, and has been read frequently on National Public Radio's "The Sound of Writing." His novel "Lucky Man, Lucky Woman" received the 1998 Pushcart Editors' Book Award, the Barnes and Noble Discover Great New Writers Award and the 1999 Independent Book Publishers Award for Fiction.

For more information, call FSU's Department of English at x4221.

Art

Math = Art Exhibit on Display at Roper Gallery

FSU's Department of Visual Arts' first art exhibition for the fall semester is "Math = Art," on display in the Stephanie Ann Roper Gallery.

Six artists incorporate the symbolic language of mathematics into their works by using concrete images, a strategy used in art and mathematics to comprehend concepts and express thoughts. Ruth Bolduan, Sara Clark, Lorenzo Clayton, Carol Brown Goldberg, Takako Nagai and Tom Nakashima use mathematical symbols and forms in a variety of media, including oil on canvas, digital and silkscreen prints and scraped acrylic and pencil on paper.

This exhibition will continue through Saturday, Sept. 28. Gallery hours are Sundays through Wednesdays from 12 p.m. to 4 p.m.

For more information, contact the Department of Visual Arts at x4797.

Faculty & Staff Authors Invited to Participate

The FSU Alumni Association and Office of Alumni Programs invite faculty and staff who have authored books to participate in The Authors Corner during Homecoming. A special corner in Lane University Center or Lewis J. Ort Library (site dependent upon participation) will be reserved for alumni, faculty and staff to showcase their books Saturday, Oct. 26, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. The Authors Corner is new to the traditional Homecoming events and will serve to reflect the creative and academic climate of FSU. Contact Colleen Peterson at cpeterson@frostburg.edu or x4068 by Oct. 9.

Bookstore News

The Bookstore will have a 20 percent off sale Sept. 16-20 on tank tops, shorts and T-shirts (sports shirts included).

Also, the Graduation Fair is set for Oct. 14, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. in Manicur Assembly Hall.

Looking for Information

Early last week, a number of trees were destroyed on Bowery Street. The City of Frostburg is offering a reward for the arrest and conviction of the perpetrators. If you have information on the crime, please contact Crime Solvers at (301) 722-4300.

Looking for Experts on Medicinal Herbs, Plants

Researchers at FSU are trying to locate area residents who are knowledgeable about herbs and medicinal plants in the Western Maryland and nearby West Virginia and Pennsylvania areas. The researchers are looking at ways in which the University can help to expand this knowledge and further community understanding of medicinal herbs.

Individuals who respond will be sent a short questionnaire asking about their knowledge and interest in herbs and herbal medicine. Some who return the questionnaire will be interviewed to gain more detailed information.

One of the researchers' goals is to compile a list of area people who share similar interests in herbs and to connect them with each other. Organizers of this project are seeking a wide variety of interests – herb growers, collectors/harvesters, sellers, buyers, herbalists who recommend herbs to others, as well as those who use herbs.

If you are one of these individuals or know of someone who has a special knowledge of herbs, contact Dr. Michael Olson, FSU, Department of Sociology, 101 Braddock Road, Frostburg, MD 21532. You can call x7965 or contact him by e-mail at molson@frostburg.edu.

Commencement Announcement

Any student planning to complete his or her studies during this semester must first officially file for graduation.

Undergraduate students should contact the Registrar's Office (x4349, 144 Pullen Hall), while graduate students should submit paperwork to Graduate Services (x7053, 141 Pullen Hall). Special mailings and notices regarding Commencement are sent only to those students who have completed all filings. The initial mailing will be sent the third week of October.

Caps and gowns are provided at no charge to all students cleared to participate in Commencement; however, each student is responsible for placing an order in advance. Orders should be submitted to the University Bookstore by Oct. 21. All graduating students are also encouraged to attend the Grad Fair on Monday, Oct. 14, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the LUC Manicur Assembly Hall.

Advance information about Commencement is always available on the University's Web site. Go to www. frostburg.edu, click on "current students," then on "academics." A drop-down screen will list Commencement. This link will connect you to full details on Commencement and related activities. (You may also type in the URL: www.frostburg.edu/events/commenc.htm.) For more information, contact Beth Deatelhauser in Special Academic Services, x3130, 127 Performing Arts Center, or by e-mail at bdeatelhauser@frostburg.edu.

Long-Term Care Info Session Sept. 26

The FSU Alumni Association will sponsor a long-term care information session Thursday, Sept. 26, from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Frostburg Village Nursing Care center. The session will discuss what long-term care is, its costs and ways to cover it and related details. FSU alumni working in these fields, along with other experts, will facilitate the program. Guests will have Q&A opportunities as well. This session is open to all alumni, students, faculty, staff and their guests.

Please direct any questions to the Office of Alumni Programs at x4068.

USM Women's Forum to Host Annual Conference

The University System of Maryland Women's Forum will host its 13th Annual Conference, "Steps for Success," from 8:45 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 18, at Martin's Crosswinds in Greenbelt, Md. Check-in begins at 8 a.m. The conference will feature keynote addresses by Maryland State Treasurer Nancy K. Kopp, a former state legislator, Kathryn B. Freeland, Chairwoman/CEO, RGII Technologies, Inc., and Dr. Gloria A. Wilder Braithwaite, Director, Mobile Health Programs, Children's Health Project of Washington, D.C. USM Chancellor William E. Kirwan will bring greetings at the luncheon.

Conference participants will attend workshops geared toward teaching the "steps for success" – from career planning, negotiating and leadership to yoga, self-defense and achieving balance between work and home. A "Marketplace" will be open throughout the day for those interested in purchasing goods or services.

The cost for the conference (including the luncheon) is $60, payable by check to the USM Women's Forum. All participants must register in advance by Sept. 30. Registration forms may be downloaded from the USM Women's Forum web site, www.inform.umd.edu/usmwf/conference. A limited amount of funds are available for FSU employees interested in attending. For more information, contact Karen Treber, x4112.

Points of Pride

Robert Llewellyn, Professor, Visual Arts Dept., will be participating in an international print exhibition. He will exhibit two intaglio prints in the Print International at the Taller Galeria Fort in Cadaques, Spain. The exhibit will also be presented at the Wingfield Arts and Music Festival, England, and the Galeria L'Etang d'Art, Bages, France.

Biology department graduate student, Amanda Jensen, and advisor, Dr. Ron Barry, presented a paper titled "Movements and Use of Habitat Edge by the Appalachian Cottontail, Sylvilagus obscurus" at the 82nd annual meeting of the American Society of Mammalogists in June at McNeese State University in Louisiana. Barry also presented a paper titled "Ten Years of Population Data on two Species of Hyrax in the Matobo National Park, Zimbabwe."

Barry has also received a grant of $71,946 from the National Park Service to survey the mammals of Richmond National Battlefield Park and Fredericksburg and Spotsylvania County Memorial National Military Park in Virginia. This and earlier NPS funding will support the M.S. thesis research of FSU graduate students Tressa Dolbeare, Dana Strang and Heather Warchalowski.

Barry has published the article, "Seasonal Variation in the Degree of Heterospecific Association of two Syntopic Hyraxes (Heterohyrax brucei and Procavia capensis) Exhibiting Synchronous Parturition," in Volume 52 (pages 177-181) of the journal Behavioral Ecology and Sociobiology. The article also can be found on Springer-Verlag's internet service at http://link.springer.de.

Attention all Education Students!

The application deadline for students entering Phase I, II or III of the Teacher Education Program is Monday, Oct. 14.

All applications should be returned to the Office of Unit Assessment, Framptom Hall room 206-6. If you need an application or have any questions, contact Felicia Leary at x7953 or stop by the Office of Unit Assessment.

Beginner Tumbling Class

A Beginner Tumbling class will be offered on Tuesdays and Thursdays, from Sept. 17 to Oct. 24, from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. The class will be held in the Cordts P.E. Center Room 170. The class, which is limited to 10 students, is for children between the ages of 5 and 12 who have little or no formal tumbling training.

Beginner tumbling class will include activities such as headstands, handstands, cartwheels, rolls, backbends and other simple movements. The most advanced stunts will be front and back walkovers, which will not be performed until the tumbler has perfected all pre-requisite stunts. The class is designed to teach flexibility, strength and muscle control. Advance registration is required. For more information and registration, contact Amy Nazelrod, AFL Coordinator at x7934.

Pre-School Tumbling Class

A Pre-School Tumbling class will be offered on Wednesdays from Sept. 18 to Dec. 11 from 5 to 5:30 p.m. Natalie Shannon will teach the class in Cordts P.E. Center Room 170.

The class, which is limited to 10 students, is for children 3 and 4 years old who have little or no formal tumbling training. (The AFL center prefers that the children are potty-trained.)

The class will include activities such as cartwheels, rolls and other simple movements. The class is designed to teach flexibility, strength, muscle control and coordination.

There will be no class on Nov. 27. Advance registration is required. For more information and registration contact Amy Nazelrod, AFL Coordinator, at x7934.

Career, Internship Fair

The Office of Career Services will host a Fall Career & Internship Fair Thursday, Oct.

3, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in Manicur Assembly Hall in the LUC. All students are welcome to attend this fair and meet several employers. Students are also encouraged to register for and visit www.collegecentral.com/frostburg for more details and other events.

Get Involved

Try the Involvement Fair

On Wednesday, Sept. 18, the Office of Student and Community Involvement is sponsoring an Involvement Fair. The goal is for students to obtain information about various involvement opportunities at FSU. The scope will include not only recognized student organizations, but emphasize the importance of involvement with campus offices and departments as well. There are numerous opportunities for students to be connected with FSU at many levels – including employment — and this is a chance for them to make that connection in an easy "one-stop-shopping" environment.

Take advantage of the Involvement Fair from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. outside on Delaney Plaza (clock tower). (Rain site will be the Lane University Center Loft and Lobby).

If you are interested in being a part of this event, contact the Lane University Center Information Desk at x4411, and reserve a free table/space for your area, office or department. Please reserve your space no later than Monday, Sept. 16. For information, call Gary Van Zinderen, Director of Student Activities at x4151, qvanzinderen@frostburq.edu.

United Campus Ministry

UCM will hold a cookout/ice cream social at the home of Ben Hurley and Jessica Brown on Wednesday, Sept. 18, at 6 p.m. If you need a ride, meet behind Ort Library at 5:45 p.m.

Catholic Campus Ministry

On Tuesday, Sept. 17, Dr. Fred Surgent from the department of Health, Physical Education and Recreation will lead CCM in a presentation and discussion on the topic of "Spirituality and Healing" at 7:30 p.m. at the Osborne Newman Center at 7:30 p.m.

Fall 2002 Karate Training Schedule

The FSU Shotokan Karate Club will hold its training every Tuesday and Thursday from 6:30 to 8 p.m. in the Cordts Center Dance Studio. The FSU Shotokan Karate Club is open to all faculty, staff and students of FSU. No prior karate experience is required to attend.

Community

PACE Plus to Show Off Frostburg Sept. 19-21

Everyone is invited to PACE Plus from Thursday, Sept. 19, to Saturday, Sept. 21. PACE, which stand for Positive Attitudes Change Everything, is designed to show the positive things in Western Maryland, and, this year, especially in Frostburg.

There will be a reception Sept. 19 at 7 p.m. at the newly renovated City Place on Water Street. There will be displays, music and events all three days. On Saturday, tours will be offered of the industrial park, the Parris Glendening Recreation Center and Appalachian Laboratory. The Frostburg Museum will also be open on Saturday, Sept. 21, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Woman2Woman Conference

The Woman2Woman Empowerment Inc. Third Annual Women's Conference will be Sept. 27-28 at the Kingsley Grace Mission Center, 130 Virginia Ave. in Cumberland.

The theme will be "From Caterpillars to Butterflies — The Life Changing Power of a Word from God." The Rev. Theresa Mercer of New Psalmist Baptist Church in Baltimore will speak. Mercer is the Faith Partnership Initiative Specialist for the Maryland Governor's Office of Crime Control and Prevention. She is active in initiating programs to help the faith-based community receive funding information.

The conference is open to all area women. Registration is $15 with a valid FSU ID. Call (301) 759-9300 or write to Woman 2Woman Empowerment, 130 Virginia Ave., Cumberland, MD 21502.

Topics include "For Such A Worm As I," "In The Cocoon," "I Believe I Can Fly" and "My Body, God's Temple." Sessions are from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday.

Volunteers

The second annual Day of Caring and Sharing in Frostburg will be Saturday, Sept. 21. There will be eight projects under way throughout the community. To volunteer, call (301) 724-7116.

Read to Succeed! Volunteers Sought

Want to earn volunteer hours? Want to work with children? "Read to Succeed," an AmeriCorps literacy program based out of FSU needs tutors for two after school programs. One will be Wednesdays from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. at St. Michael's School. Tutors will work with children in grades K-5, tutoring one-on-one and working in small groups. A second opportunity will be at FSU Ort Library Tuesdays and Thursdays from 5 to 7 p.m. Tutors will work with K-8 student in math, science and literature. All volunteers will be trained. Call Lamel Moore at x7598.

International

British University Reps on Campus Sept. 16th

Gloria Vicary from Essex, England, will visit FSU Monday, Sept. 16, to represent a number of UK universities, including Essex, York and Kent at Canterbury. She will answer questions about costs, credit transfer, full degree programs and studying in Britain. Gloria will have a table in the LUC foyer from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Financial Aid for Overseas Study

Students planning to study overseas during the 2003 intersession or spring semester should note that the application deadline for most scholarships, including the CIE scholarship, is Oct. 15. Scholarships are available from a number of sources, both on campus and off. Most financial aid will transfer overseas, and student who are on the Pell Grant may qualify for the Gilman scholarship which will cover up to $5,000 for overseas study.

Study Abroad Programs

The Center for International Education offers a variety of ways for FSU students to see the world. In many cases students register at FSU during a semester abroad and can take all financial aid with them and transfer credit back to FSU. For information on any of the programs or scholarships that may be available, check with Dr. Amy Simes at the CIE in the Fuller House on Braddock Road, call her at x3091 or e-mail her at asimes@frostburg.edu, or visit the CIE's new and improved Web page at www.frostburg.edu/admin/cie/cie.htm.

Study in Non-traditional Locations

FSII is affiliated with the School for International Training. This enables FSU students to study through SIT in over 50 locations while remaining registered at FSU. All financial aid will transfer. SIT offers programs in Africa, Asia, South America, Europe and Austral-asia. This is a fantastic opportunity for students who would like to spend a semester, year or summer off the beaten track.

Financial Aid for Studying Overseas

FSU students are able to transfer all federal financial aid overseas to help pay for study abroad programs, along with state and institutional aid for most FSU sponsored programs. The CIE also awards study abroad scholarships of $500 and $1,000 to qualifying students. Scholarship deadline for intersession and spring programs is Oct. 15. Many other state and national scholarships are also available to help cover overseas costs.

Study in Limerick, Ireland, Spring 2003

Students interested in taking part in the Ireland Exchange Program in Limerick during spring 2003 are encouraged to pick up an application at the CIE. Participants study at Mary Immaculate College and take one FSU class and three MIC classes. Next spring, Dr. Kenneth Witmer, Educational Professions, will accompany the group and teach three classes. All financial aid will transfer and scholarships are available.
