Fall Dance Concert

FSU's Department of Theatre and Dance will present its annual fall Dance Concert on Oct. 28, 29 and 30 at 7:30 p.m. in the Performing Arts Center's Drama Theatre.

The concert will feature eight uniquely choreographed performances, with styles ranging from ballet to hip hop to jazz. Two seniors, Kira Stanley and Ellen Bell, will dance their final concerts. Stanley choreographed and will dance a contemporary solo exposing a woman tired of playing the games of love. Bell created a modern dance-inspired choreography depicting the hardships, frustrations and anger one goes through in a relationship. The piece explores anger between two people, anger toward each other and self-reflection during the troubling moments.

Dance Company director Jamie McGreevy choreographed another original piece depicting the battles for earth among the Goddesses of Wind,

Fire and Water. This contemporary piece explores the paradigm of micro-movement, inner-body tensions and finding the anti-habitual body.

Elizabeth Collins choreographed a jazz piece for the concert and Keont'a McMiller choreographed a ballet. Rita Peacock's piece includes hip hop, jazz and lyrical movement; the piece by Samantha Flowers and Brieana Jordan will be accompanied by the inspiring words of Maya Angelou. Senior Brieana Jordan and dancers Jay Moultrie and Sylvern Groomes will perform an upbeat hip-hop piece to the music of Missy Elliott.

Bayanihan Brings the Philippines to FSU

Bayanihan, the national dance company of the Philippines, will bring its breathtaking show to PAC Pealer Recital Hall Thursday,

Nov. 11, at 7:30 p.m. The performance is part of the Cultural Events Series at FSU.

Bayanihan takes its name from an ancient Filipino tradition called "bayanihan," which means working together for a common good. Founded in 1957, the company works to educate audiences on the cultural traditions and folklore of the Philippines through dazzling theatrical presentations and traditional music. A nationally and internationally award-winning company, Bayanihan has awakened a new pride among Filipinos in their cultural heritage, added a new dimension to the country's dance tradition and built a rich reserve of international goodwill. Now the company will bring its unique presentation to Mountain Maryland.

The extravagant dances require a combination of precise movement, balance and skill from company members. Everything from the music to the choreography to the lighting to the costumes is intricately planned to show homage and patriotism to the motherland. Entertaining and emotional, it's a cultural experience that transcends borders.

Tickets for the Bayanihan Philippine National Dance Company performance are $20 for adults and $14 for those under 17. Corporate and group discount ticket rates are also available.

Tickets may be ordered by calling x3137 or online at <http://ces.frostburg.edu>.

 Points of Pride

FSU’s Trident Initiative Announces Awards

Two regional businesses were honored recently by FSU’s Trident Initiative for their entrepreneurial efforts. Matthew Brewer of Bennett, Brewer and Associates was awarded the 2010 Model Entrepreneur of the Year award, and Eskat Asfaw of College Shuttle won the 2010 Young Entrepreneur of the Year award. The awards were presented at FSU’s Trident Initiative’s Annual Conference.

FSU students were also honored for their entrepreneurial ideas as part of their class, Business Plan Development. Four student teams participated. Taking first place was senior Evan Kullberg, owner of Malino’s Pizza on Main Street. Second place was awarded to Joelle Rodriguez, while Gregory Rhoades placed third. An appreciation prize of $50 was awarded to Jeffrey Katz.

The Model Entrepreneur of the Year award identifies a successful entrepreneur in the region who has been in operation for at least 10 years, has made significant contribution to the region’s economy through job creation, has a record of mentoring newer entrepreneurs within the region and has an acknowledged record of social and philanthropic giving.

Bennett, Brewer & Associates, in downtown Frostburg, was incorporated in 1995. BBA provides professional services, including consulting, surveying and civil, environmental and mechanical engineering services to the public and private sectors. A few years ago, when the City of Frostburg was undertaking the application process to become a State of Maryland-designated Arts and Entertainment District, BBA donated countless hours to ensure that the application resulted in a successful outcome. BBA once again stepped up when it was time to cultivate a business venture focusing on Appalachian arts and culture; Mountain City Traditional Arts is located in the first floor retail space of BBA's location. BBA was awarded the Allegany Arts Council's 2010 Community Partner Award.

The Young Entrepreneur of the Year award honors a successful young (under age 35) entrepreneur in the region who has been in operation for at least three years, has contributed to the region's economy through job creation and has shown a willingness to mentor younger entrepreneurs and contribute to the community.

College Shuttle, LLC, seeks to fill the gap in the transportation needs of students. Just under three years old, College Shuttle provides shuttle services between the campus and students' homes. The company also assists students in transporting and storing their personal effects, especially at the beginning and end of the school year. College Shuttle has transported over 600 students thus far, and the demand is growing. The company is working with organizations on campus, has provided job opportunities to 15 students by involving them in the administrative and vehicle operating tasks as well as helped some economically underprivileged students to make college tours to FSU and other colleges. Recently profiled in the popular online entrepreneurial journal, the Startupist, College Shuttle is gaining some serious attention.

The Trident Initiative is a comprehensive entrepreneurship-based education program at FSU supported in part through a grant from the Chicago-based Coleman Foundation, which supports entrepreneur education programs throughout the U.S. For info, contact Dr. Sudhir Singh at x4093 or trident@frostburg.edu.
