

Good afternoon,

This is an update on two of our buildings.

We are scheduled to begin moving faculty and staff into the Education and Health Sciences Center next week. There are some final construction items still to be completed, including the walkway from the Lane Center.

I welcome the campus community to tour our newest building between 10 a.m. and noon on Tuesday, June 20. We will have coffee, tea, lemonade and water near the second-floor entrance. I think you will be impressed with our newest academic building.

The University of Maryland Service Center at College Park, which manages our construction projects, has had an outside consultant inspect Brownsville Hall. The consultant has provided recommendations on needed repairs. The Service Center is in contact with the company that designed and constructed Brownsville Hall. We are awaiting their response and plan for remediating the building. Once we have a plan in place, we will share that plan with the campus.

Campus will be busy with summer camps beginning soon and our next set of Bobcat Bound Days starting this week. Please continue to enjoy your summer.
